CZECH NONET

The Czech Nonet is composed of artists from the Czech Philharmonic, each of whom is a concert soloist in his own right.

Founded in Prague in the twenties, the group--four string and five woodwind players--now includes members of the original Nonet as well as outstanding new talents.

The group's influence is especially felt in Eastern Europe, where this unique ensemble has inspired compositions from the most notable contemporary writers of music, such as Martinu.

In the forty-plus years of its existence, the Nonet has recorded extensively and performed in almost every major music festival and every major music center. In 1973, the group's first United States tour was greeted with critical acclaim. Friends of Chamber Music was privileged to present the Nonet on our Stockton series at that time, and we now take special delight in welcoming back the ensemble to Stockton for another superb performance.
